

New Empires.

Navigating the era of great powers

LAUREN GOODWIN, CFA

Chief Market Strategist,
New York Life Investments

Lauren is an economist and the Chief Market Strategist at New York Life Investments, the parent company of Candriam. She is responsible for economic and market research, asset allocation, and the investment implications of macroeconomic and capital market change.

Previously, she has been an economist with JPMorgan, Wells Fargo, Frontier Strategy Group, and the OECD.

She holds a Master's Degree in International Relations from Johns Hopkins, a bachelors (unclear) from University of Southern California, is a CFA Charterholder, and is the author of the CFA Institute's curriculum on geopolitical risk.